MARIKANA COMMISSION POSTPONE HEARINGS

The Commission's sittings scheduled to resume on Monday, 12 August 2013 have been postponed.

A decision in respect of possible funding for the legal team representing the injured and the arrested miners has not been finally determined. This decision is now expected within the next few days.

"Though it is regrettable that we have to once again postpone the Commission's sitting time by two more days in addition to the days already lost, it is however desirable that we continue with efforts we are making to ensure a process as inclusive as possible," says retired Judge Ian G. Farlam.

Hearings will resume on Wednesday, 14 August 2013 at 9:30 in Centurion.
